

The Northwestern Physics/Astronomy Grad School Application

- General information is available here and application instructions are here.
- Applications will be due December 31, 2022
- Decisions will be made through mid-Feb. 2023, or possibly later.
- GRE scores are optional for Physics PhD and are not accepted for the Astronomy PhD.
- Required elements: statement of purpose, a resume/CV and at least 2 letters of recommendation.
- Submitting a writing sample or publication is optional.
- Current cost is listed at $95 (paid through the application portal)
- After you complete your application, The Graduate School checks it for compliance and passes applications onto the specific review committee in either Physics or Astronomy.
- Information on fee waivers can be found here.
- Deadline for accepting/declining an offer is typically April 15.